First off I'd like to say happy holidays to all of you, and I hope that you are all happy and healthy. When I first started this website I told you that I wanted to help you find legit ways to make money from home. Well nothing has changed, and I'm still scouring the internet for the best deals on products and services to try and make you money. I try to sift through the scams so that you don't get taken and you can be on your way from a small time affiliate to a big time affiliate like these other guys. Well I'm back to tell you about a new website I found offering a product called the "Ad Cash System."

This system sounded like most of the get-rich-quick products that are flooding the market nowadays, so needless to say, I was very skeptical. At the same time, I'm always looking for ways to make money online, so I figured I'd give it a shot.

At first I thought to myself, "Great, I wasted more money on another useless product" but I kept an open mind and delved deeper into the product. Basically it teaches you about how to write ads for companies as an affiliate to make money. Okay, useful, but why am I paying for this? Aren't I an affiliate already? So I kept on reading and discovered that a lot of what I was doing, I was doing the wrong way! Not only did this product show me the right way to start writing ads for companies, but it was giving me a whole database FULL of companies to write ads for! Now I was interested.

Anyone can write an ad, and using this product you can learn to write even better ads. But was it worth the admission price? I didn't think so, but once again I kept an open mind and stopped myself from tossing this product away with the rest of them. See, there's more to making money as an affiliate than writing ads. You have to know how to market those ads. If this is the part where you think I'm going to tell you the program failed me, you'd be wrong. With the purchase of this product, you get your own website! And to make it even better, this website is absolutely free! Now the product was starting to look up.

Everyone and their grandmothers nowadays has their own blog, but did you know that you can actually use that blog to make money? When I started this website, I had to pay a company to register the domain name. Then I had to pay another company to actually provide the space to host the website. Then I have to pay for email for the website. These things can run you into the hundreds of dollars. Blogs are absolutely free, and this product shows you how you can turn your blog into a cash machine.

With all these bonuses, this product should be worth hundreds of dollars. But I'm not finished. They are offering even more free services with your purchase. Here's a quick rundown of what you get when you sign up for their program:

- A database of real work at home jobs
- How you can get paid to take surveys
- How you can get paid to go shopping!
- Where you can buy items wholesale so that you can sell them on sites like eBay
- How you can make money just by driving

- Your own turnkey website

- And many more!

If I were you reading this, I'd think it was too good to be true, but in fact, it's not. These are all legitimate programs that you can make a killing with.

After discovering all these extras thrown in I was floored. I really thought I had discovered something big here. There was still something that bothered me, though. What if, like me, you already have a website? What is this program missing that would help me with my own website? Ever look at other affiliates' websites and think, wow, that's a great pre-sell page. How did they create that? Let's be honest, a lot of them look like they came from a cookie-cutter, but you know what? They work. There's no sense in trying to re-invent the wheel. The reason that a lot of them look the same is because they found a great product that does all the work for you. I have found this product, and I am willing to share it to you - for free! That's right, dear reader, call it a holiday bonus if you like, but if you sign up for this program like I did, I want to know about it. In return, I will give you the product that the other guys are using to write these killer pre-sell pages for absolutely no cost to you. It's real simple, click on the link below to sign up for this program. Send me your receipt - forward it to littlemike@smalltimeaffiliate.com and I will send you access instructions to the powerful free bonus, as soon as I have confirmed your order. But sign up now. I'm not going to be offering this bonus forever. Good luck, and happy holidays! Click here to sign up now before the offer expires!
